SHeIC2021 Conference in Troyes

The digitalization in healthcare opens new perspectives for the patients and the physicians, may be an answer to the global population ageing. The goal of SHeIC 2021 is to bring together members of the Healthcare society and researchers from the Data analysis and Operations Research fields to discuss about the future of healthcare, with a focus on the patient wellbeing and the optimization of the hospital management on operational and structural level.

Call for contributed papers

Authors are invited to submit abstract papers (2 pages) or long papers (6-10 pages) via the online submission system EasyChair by the submission deadline.

Papers should report original research of theoretical or applied nature as contributed paper.

A selection of accepted papers will be published in a post-conference Proceedings book (Springer) and an International peerreviewed Journal.
